

Spartans of 1964 of 'New Political Breed'

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of four articles dealing with political knowledge and involvement of SJS students. Information is based upon a poll of student opinion, interviews and research.

By CHERI WALKER
MARILYN BELL

In your heart you know SJS has changed. The Spartan of the '60s is a new breed, and so are his politics. His party label and niche in society are not much different from 10 years ago, but he cannot be put into a neat little box labeled middle class. He is alive with the changes of the decade, is more concerned with his fate, and what he can do about it. He looks apathetic most of the time, but looks are deceiving. He is the most important part of a college that can go places.

The extent of political awareness at SJS is a fascinating subject. A cross-section sample of the student body conducted during October gives an idea of what is happening politically at SJS.

One per cent of the student body was polled with a 13-page questionnaire covering background information, political labels, actual political knowledge, and opinion on definite political issues, traditional and current. The questionnaire was developed, conducted and interpreted under the direction of Dr. Milton Andersen and Dr. Eldred Rutherford of the Psychology Department.

The results cannot be put into pat, end-all answers, for this was not the intention of the study, nor is it possible. Most SJS students are not politically sophisticated; nevertheless, a large expressive minority of the student body are politically aware, and this group is influencing the vast middle.

CROSS SECTION

The cross section sample included 40 freshmen, 60 sophomores, 60 juniors, 40 seniors and 10 graduate students, which is fairly close to the student body's composition. The racial breakdown was 93 per cent white, 1.5 per cent Negro, 3.5 per cent Oriental and 2 per cent Mexican-American.

Average family income was indicated to be between $7,500 and $10,000. About 38 per cent of the students polled live in college approved housing. This is low compared to 1964 statistics from the Housing Office which show almost 50 per cent of the students in approved housing. Most of the students over 21 indicated they live within a 5-mile radius of campus. The average age of all students polled was 22, a high number because of many 40-year-old students included in the poll.

PARTY BREAKDOWN

Political party breakdown gives an indication of what is happening at SJS: 97 Democrats, 59 Independents, 51 Republicans, 3 Other Parties. Parents' parties were reported equally half and half, Republican and Democrat. Ninety per cent of the students stated that they basically agree with their parents' political viewpoints. Nevertheless, the majority of Democrats and the high rate of Independents among the students is significant. It could be due to distaste for this year's political campaign, and the haziness of party lines. At any rate, the students' politics are slightly left of their parents'.

Students stated they are moderately involved in politics, and one-fourth reported involvement in political activity other than voting. This involvement is generally limited to "safe" activities such as getting out the vote, writing congressmen, discussing issues with family and friends, reading more, and attending political meetings.

Most students indicated reluctance to become an officer of a political group, give a political speech, buttonhole strangers on political matters, or pass out political literature door-to-door or on the streets. Only 10 per cent reported actual membership in any kind of political club.

SIT-INS

Nevertheless, 30 to 40 per cent approved of such expressive acts as sit-ins, at both public and private facilities, and of faculty members participating in such. This is a very large minority. Generally, the majority disapproves of any type of public demonstration, except strikes for higher wages and even this approval is limited to factory workers. Students feel striking is not appropriate for college professors, although 48 per cent give their approval. Strikes by doctors, to quote one student, would be "not too swift," about 80 per cent of the students disapprove.

Consistently, the majority of the students stated they would be willing to become more involved in politics, but only as long as it is an "approved" kind of activity. It is interesting to note, however, that 70 per cent approve of Communist speakers on campus, a change from the '50s. This indicates an increase of political sophistication and tolerance among the majority polled.

TOLERANCE

This tolerance is significant, and reveals itself often in the poll. Although students shy away from public commitment at present, the indication from their comments is that they would take definite action if the need were to exist. The majority said they would make their pressure felt in a less expressive manner than the activist minority. Several students who did not completely approve civil rights demonstrations, commented that they would picket if they were "damn sure that was the only way to settle the problem."

"Cautious but concerned" might be one way to describe today's average Spartan. Tomorrow the actual depth of political knowledge and opinion on current and traditional issues will be considered.

Free Bids

A major social event of the year, the Coronation Ball, will be held Friday, Nov. 13, at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds Pavilion. Free bids will be passed out starting tomorrow for the semi-formal dance.

Ahead in 36 States

'Johnson Leads' Says UPI Poll

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is leading in 36 states and the District of Columbia with 433 electoral votes and Sen. Barry M. Goldwater is ahead in 10 states with 71 electoral votes, according to a United Press International survey.

In doubt are four states with 34 electoral votes. These are Indiana, Florida, Vermont and North Dakota.

This outlook for next Tuesday's election is based on state-wide polls, interviews with political leaders and the findings of veteran correspondents throughout the nation.

JOHNSON LANDSLIDE

With a Johnson landslide apparently in the offing, the Democrats also seem likely to ride his coattails to slight gains in the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives, and in state governorships.

The UPI survey shows the Democrats, who now hold 34 governorships to the Republicans' 16, are favored to wind up with a net gain of at least one. Two races—in Illinois and Washington—are rated tossups.

In the 35 Senate contests, the survey finds the Democrats ahead in 26, the Republicans leading in seven and two considered uncertain. Not counting the two doubtful races, this would give the Democrats a net gain of two and 68 of the 100 Senate seats.

ALL AT STAKE

All 435 House seats are to be filled in Tuesday's balloting. Indications are that the Democrats will add slightly to the 254 to 176 margin they now hold over the Republicans. There are five vacancies at present.

Johnson's strength, according to the UPI survey, extends into every section of the country with commanding leads in all of the big electoral-vote states.

Goldwater is making his strongest showing in the once traditionally Democratic South and has scattered support in the West, but is shut out in the East.

The survey indicates that the President has an edge in every one of the big states Goldwater has said he would need to win. These are California, Ohio, Illinois and Texas.

SJS Students To Aid Media

A total of 55 SJS journalism students will serve as telephone relay operators for the Network Election Service tomorrow night in downtown San Jose office quarters, receiving calls from all of the precincts in Santa Clara County for tabulation of election votes.

"It is a credit to San Jose State that we have assumed professional responsibility for news media in elections for many years now," said Gordon Greb, associate professor of journalism and chairman of the voter organization in Santa Clara County.

Unlike the primary election in June, the three major networks of NBC, ABC, and CBS and two news services are pooling their operations to reduce costs. The news media spent approximately $4 million in the primary election, according to Prof. Greb.

Post-K Era Discussion Planned

"Russia and China in the Post-Khrushchev Era" will be discussed by Dr. Amos Perlmutter, assistant professor of political science, in Concert Hall at 10:30 Wednesday morning.

According to Frank G. Willey, acting chairman of the College Lecture Committee, which is sponsoring the address, Dr. Perlmutter will present "an analysis of the nature of the bolshevik totalitarian system."

This will include, according to Dr. Willey, discussion of "the stress and strain within the sub-system of bolshevism; Titoism; and Maoism; the political behavior of the Leninist bloc, and the inter-relationship between Soviet and Maoist totalitarianism."

"Some speculations on the short-run future will be attempted," according to Dr. Willey.

SJS Professors Receive Aid For Research

Dr. John T. Ballard and Dr. Walter E. Hugins have been awarded research fellowships from the Disabled American Veterans (DAV).

Dr. Ballard, associate professor of political science, and Dr. Hugins, associate professor of history, were awarded $250 each for student-teacher research work.

Dr. Ballard's project is entitled, "Area-wide Government Cooperation: Metropolitan San Jose." His student co-worker is Delbert A. Taebel, graduate student in public administration.

Dr. Hugins' project is, "New York Whigs and the Banks, 1834-1840." His student co-worker is Miss Jorj Tilson, senior history major. Both fellowships are operative during the 1964-65 academic year.

Daily 'Send Home' Still For Sale

The special Spartan Daily Send Home Edition is still on sale today for 10 cents in front of the cafeteria and bookstore.

Members of Sigma Delta Chi, SJS chapter of the national journalism society, are selling the edition.

SDX will send the paper to your home for an additional 5 cents.

ASB BUDGET ON DISPLAY—Jack Perkins, ASB treasurer, presents a copy of the ASB budget to Miss Joyce Backus, college librarian. The document will be available at the desk on the third floor, Library North Wing, for any students interested in checking the financial allocation decisions made by the ASB Council. Perkins stated the Council felt it was "only right that students should know where and for what their money is being spent."

Calm Halloween For SJS Students

"Now tell me, don't you think that was a just punishment for the crime?" asked Don Campbell, San Jose police officer, after he made a student wipe up the shaving cream on the sidewalk with his T-shirt.

The shaving cream incident was about the most flagrant violation of the penal and moral codes of our society which occurred on Halloween night.

Other law affronting occurrences included conspiracy to make rain via water balloons. Officers would approach suspicious students and ask them if they had any water balloons on them.

The reply was invariably "no." The officers would then search them and squeeze the coat pockets which for some reason or other turned to water.

One student who had the misfortune of opening his car door and showing an open rum bottle within full view of police officers chose to pour onto the grass 90 per cent of the fifth of rum instead of receiving a citation.

Police officers also investigated a "haunted house" report on Ninth Street.

The officers joined the students in a flashlight search of the premises. No dead bodies were found.

Dr. Ralph Bunche To Speak at SJS

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, 1950 Nobel Peace Prize winner and United Nations official, will make a number of appearances on the SJS campus Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Bunche will be a guest of the Visiting Scholars Committee.

Thursday Dr. Bunche will speak to various international law, international relations and humanities classes. He will deliver a public speech in Concert Hall Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

The topic of Dr. Bunche's Thursday evening address will be announced later.

Friday morning, Dr. Bunche will speak to a class studying the foreign policies of major powers. At noon he will attend a student council luncheon.

Dr. Bunche will hold an informal discussion hour from 1:30-2:30 in the Physical-Education-Recreation building concourse. The discussion hour will be open to the public.

Spartan Programs Features Quintet

The San Jose Woodwind Quintet will perform tonight at 8:15 in Concert Hall. The performance will open the 1964-65 Spartan Programs series.

Tickets are available at the Student Affairs Business Office, B1. Student body card holders may obtain tickets free. Ticket price for faculty and public is $1.50.

Members of the quintet include Clement Hutchinson and Vernon Read, assistant professors of music, and Katherine Fiester, Martha Elspas, and Dr. William Michael.

'Viva Zapata'

Runs Wednesday

"Viva Zapata," directed by Elia Kazan, is this week's classic film presentation Wednesday, at 3:30 and 7 p.m. in TH55.

A collection of short cartoons entitled "Hor D'Oeuvres" will accompany the feature. The cartoons, made originally for government sponsors, are in French and English.

BEST BREW—Mike Dolan, left, Spartan Cafeteria manager, accepts the Golden Cup Award presented to the cafeteria by John C. Leach, right, western representative of the Coffee Brewing Institute. Spartan Cafeteria, which, according to Dolan, brews approximately 35,000 cups of coffee weekly, received the award "for producing a fine beverage coffee in accordance with the highest brewing standards." The CBI, which represents 550,000 people in the American coffee industry, bestowed the award after conducting chemical analysis on coffee drawn from the cafeteria urns at various times of the day.

Know the Issues for Nov. 3

Pros, Cons of Ballot Measures

Compiled by CHERI WALKER

Because it is important for students of voting age to be familiar with the November ballot measures, Spartan Daily presents the following synopsis of each amendment and initiative and arguments for and against them.

PROP. 1 would authorize $150 million for acquisition and development of lands for state and local recreation purposes; $85 million for property; $20 million for development; $5 million for property and wildlife management; $40 million for the development of local recreational facilities with a minimum of $75,000 for each county.

Proponents say the present facilities are inadequate because of the expanding population and that available acreage for recreational facilities is diminishing. Passage of this bond would assure present and future facilities to be paid for by present and future users.

Opponents contend the sale of authorized but unsold bonds at a reasonable price will be jeopardized by other bond proposals; also, that the current issue does not include maintenance or operating costs of facilities acquired under the act. It would result in undesired development and raise the tax rates.

PROP. 2 would authorize $380 million to provide funds for major building construction, equipment and site acquisition for the University of California, the state colleges, junior colleges and mental and correctional institutions. About 71 per cent would be used for educational institutions.

Proponents say the expanding population demands acquisition, construction and equipping of major educational, mental and correctional institutions. It would in part be paid for by future users through the bond issue. Control would be maintained by the legislature through yearly appropriations.

Opponents say that the end result would be as much or more money being used for past debts as for new construction. Also that the $50 million to junior colleges would be outright grants and the junior colleges would tend to float bond issues whether needed or not.

PROP. 3 would authorize $260 million for loans and grants to needy school districts for land, buildings, equipment and special facilities for the handicapped.

Proponents say that several smaller school districts in the state are unable to supply elementary school facilities needed to handle the increasing population. Any delay in school construction would impair the quality of education. The issue would require local approval for the acceptance of state funds.

Opponents say the issues are a piecemeal and expensive solution to the problem. State costs of financing are increasing rapidly. They want a master plan on a pay-as-you-go basis. The present system subsidizes rather than encourages reorganization.

PROP. 4 would provide that future veterans applying for a $1,000 reduction in assessed values must be residents of California at the time of induction or at the time this proposition would go into effect. Includes widows, widowed mothers or pensioned fathers of such veterans.

Proponents say that the state owes special recognition only to veterans who entered the service from California. Veterans' laws in the past have been restricted to these. Other vets already have received benefits from their home states.

Opponents say the residence limitation discriminates against vets who move here after it is adopted though their service was equal to that of the other veterans. All veterans should get equal treatment.

PROP. 5 would increase from $5,000 to $10,000 the amount of assessed valuation property that may be held by a veteran's widow without losing the $1,000 exemption.

Proponents say that widows who inherit property worth $5,000 to $10,000 should not lose the $1,000 exemption. Only a technicality stopped the passage of this bill in 1960.

Opponents say this would reduce an already inadequate local tax base, creating additional hardship for local governments where vets are concentrated. It benefits only those widows with property over $5,000, not all veteran's widows.

PROP. 6 requires non-California insurance companies to pay taxes in this state equal to taxes levied against California insurance companies by the home state or country.

Proponents say this measure will clear up the rules for determining when and how retaliatory taxes are applied. An increase of $1,000,000 could be gained.

Opponents: No arguments have been advanced against this measure.

PROP. 7 would permit the legislature to authorize the investment of public retirement funds in stock, shares or other obligations of any corporation.

Proponents say this would allow retirement fund managers to diversify investments more to protect funds against loss of value from inflation.

Opponents say there is nothing to protect the State and taxpayers from loss if the investments are bad or guaranteeing lower contributions if the investment is good.

PROP. 8 would provide that areas with a population of 700,000 or more, and which have an incumbent judge who is unopposed for re-election, would not list the incumbent's name on the ballot.

Proponents say this would allow voters to concentrate on contested offices. It also would speed up the counting of votes. Because of write-ins, it would make it easier to oppose the incumbent on the November ballot instead of the primary where he could win an easy victory.

Opponents say it would make it more difficult for the voter to exercise the write-in procedure by establishing restrictive time limits on intention to conduct a write-in campaign. Tradition requires the incumbent's name on the ballot.

PROP. 9 would amend the state constitution to make 11 charter counties subject to the same general laws which currently relate to adjustment of county supervisorial district boundaries in the 47 general law counties.

Proponents say that recent studies have shown inequality in representation in charter districts. Sparsely populated districts sometimes elect a majority of supervisors. This measure is necessary to provide uniformity between general law and charter counties.

Opponents say the extension of 1964 redistricting laws to charter counties would be a further encroachment of the state into county matters. It would be a violation of the Home Rule concept.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Explanation and the arguments pro and con for Propositions 10-17 will appear tomorrow.

Thrust and Parry

Prop. 14 Would Affect SJS Housing

Editor:

While some people continue to think of Prop. 14 as being merely a repeal of the Rumford Act, other groups and individuals continue to count the various detrimental effects that it portends. The Daily reported that the Student Council passed a resolution urging students to look at both sides of this issue and to keep in mind the welfare of SJS students.

How would Prop. 14 affect San Jose State? In a general sense, we would be affected by being part of the whole community. Minorities would have a more difficult time getting decent housing. There also are two specific ways, however, in which SJS would be hit.

The first of these involves our Approved Housing Program. At present, the Administration requires a large group of students to live in approved housing. As a necessary concomitant to this policy, all managers of approved housing units are prohibited from practicing racial or religious discrimination. Among the many effects of Prop. 14 would be the cessation of this prohibition. It is of grave concern to persons interested in student welfare that Prop. 14 would give apartment house managers the power to keep minorities from attending San Jose State.

The second program affected by Prop. 14 would be the Foreign Student Program. For many years SJS has pointed with justifiable pride to the fact that we have many foreign students. Prop. 14 obviously would place this whole program in serious jeopardy.

Although there was overwhelming feeling on the Council that Prop. 14 would be harmful to SJS, a slim majority (9-8) felt that it was not the prerogative or responsibility of the Council as a body to take a position. After the Council meeting a large majority of the members signed a petition as individuals urging a "No" vote on Prop. 14.

DON'T PUT ME ON

By TOM POWELL

The long-awaited day will be here tomorrow. And most everybody seems to know what the outcome will be.

But there's one thing that bothers me. Do you know exactly why you're going to vote one way or another?

Talking to many of the students around campus, one finds two strange reasons for voting—hate and fear.

This seems strange in a land where an election is designed to bring out patriotic spirit, friendly competition, and hard work.

We know that people will vote for Lyndon, but nobody seems to know why.

It isn't that Lyndon's so great, but Barry is hated and feared. Or it isn't that Barry is the man of the hour, but Lyndon's administration is full of Harding-type scandal.

Now, you say, "But in my heart . . ." Phooey.

If you can't give 10 good reasons for voting for one man and 10 against the other, then you're voting in ignorance. And if you're voting in ignorance, how can you expect our nation to be run as it should be?

Can you honestly say you are able to explain to another person the ramifications of Prop. 4, of 6, of 11, of 16?

Can you expect our government to be run smoothly, efficiently or wisely if you the lawmaker don't even know what you're ruling on?

Chum, you've got about 24 hours before you direct the course of our nation's history.

May I suggest that you become fully informed before you take pen in hand, walk into the canvas-covered booth, and pull the rope that rings the liberty bell.

Birth Control Study Asked by Bishops

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Three Catholic bishops Thursday urged the Ecumenical council to review the church ban on artificial birth control.

Leo Joseph Cardinal Suenens, primate of Belgium, told council delegates the church "must avoid a new Galileo case" in its attitude toward birth control.

The reference was to the Italian astronomer Galileo who in the 17th century was forced by the church under threat of inquisition torture to retract his theory that the earth revolved around the sun.

The sensitive subject, long a topic for heated debate among the Catholic laity and clergy alike, was introduced into council debate by Bishop John Dearden of Detroit.

Bishop Dearden told the 2,200 council delegates that true conjugal love must be seen in the light of the sacramental dignity of marriage.

Booters Win; Meet Indians In Crucial

San Jose State took a giant stride towards the Northern California intercollegiate soccer championship Friday night, beating University of California 4-2 at Spartan Stadium.

The win gives San Jose (5-1) a commanding one-game lead with only two league games remaining. The Spartans meet Stanford tomorrow at Palo Alto. Al Korbus, all-American candidate, again led the Spartan scoring attack, kicking in two goals. Lou Fraser and Colin Lindores added the other San Jose goals. San Jose's JV's edged the Bear JV's 2-1 in a preliminary match.

By DAVE PAYNE
 Fired-up West Texas State University, playing its last home game of the 1964 season, used a blocked punt and a 94-yard punt return to upset San Jose State Saturday night.

The score was 18-7. SJS scored the game's initial touchdown, but had their lead cut just before the half to 7-6. With 2:43 remaining in the third period, WTS' Tony Waters, 11th in the nation in punt returns, took a low kick on his own six and ued blocking to perfection to go the distance. A 2-point conversion failed. Two minutes later, WTS scored the clincher when end Butch Walterscheid broke through the SJS defensive line and blocked Bob Paterson's punt. The ball rolled into the end zone and was recovered by WTS. Again the 2-pointer was nullified.

The Spartans topped the hosts in net yardage and first downs, 262-227 and 15-12, respectively.

But it looked like the Buffaloes knew what the SJS offense was going to do on close to every play. Ken Berry found the mark on only 9 of 26 passing attempts and was heavily pursued by rushers all night. And the San Jose pass patterns were covered like a blanket.

Don Dennis and Russell Mundy gained 138 yards for the winners. SJS' lone TD came after a fumble recovery by lineman Mike Lowery on the WTS 15. Berry found Bob Bonds in the end zone with a 10-yard pass four plays later. Paterson converted.

WTS barely scored its first TD when Dennis went four yards off a screen pass on a fourth down play. Dennis never actually made the end zone, he stuck the ball over the goal line before being pushed back by SJS defensemen.

Yearlings Win, 30-8

San Jose State's frosh football team unveiled lightning-quick speed Thursday as it bombed Fresno State's yearlings 30-8 at Spartan Stadium.

The Spartababes scored on 80, 70 and 86-yard plays against the Bullpups to register their fourth win of the season against one loss.

Halfback Bob Trujillo raced 80 yards for a touchdown early in the first period and coach John Webb's charges were never headed.

San Jose rolled up a 22-0 half-time lead, and prevented the Bullpups from scoring until the final period on an interception.

Ron Parker, brother of Dennis on the varsity, intercepted a

Fresno aerial in the second period and ran 30 yards to the Fresno two yard line to set up San Jose's second score. Fullback Jim Zito plunged over for the TD.

Quarterback Bob Toledo hit end Paul Hatling with a 70-yard pass and the Spartababes' third touchdown before the half.

Toledo connected with halfback J. D. Johnson in the fourth quarter on an 86-yard pass for San Jose's final score.

Spartan Watermen Lose 21-13 to OC

Hindered by the loss of three players who were evicted from the game and two players who fouled out, the Spartan water polo team suffered a 21-13 defeat to the Olympic Club. The Spartababes defeated the OC reserves 15-7.

Sheldon Harmatz had already been evicted for interfering with a free throw when Jack Likins was evicted for the same reason at the beginning of the second quarter.

The Spartans trailed only 7-6 when Likins was evicted, but the OC scored four goals in the following two minutes, and put the game out of reach.

Bloodgood Paces Taus to Victory

Theta Chi played the spoiler's role Thursday, deadlocking league-leading SAE 0-0.

Phi Sigma Kappa, behind Ken Ellers' five TD passes, whipped Sigma Alpha Epsilon 32-6 and moved back into first place with a 7-0-1 record. SAE is 6-0-1.

Sigma Chi was practically eliminated from title contention, being bombed by DU 25-0. DU (7-1) took over third place on the strength of Dave Madsen's four TD passes.

Ever-improving ATO (6-2) annexed a 27-0 win over Lambda Chi Alpha to remain in contention. Bill Bloodgood caught two TD passes and Gary Brenneran fired one TD pass and ran for another to lead the Taus.

In other games DSP 14, PIKA 0; Sigma Pi 18, Theta Xi 0; Sigma Nu 33, SAM 0.

Queen Finalists
To Brighten Rally
Thursday Night

Five finalists for 1964 Homecoming Queen will be announced at a "study-break" rally, to be held Thursday, 9 to 11 p.m.

Location of the rally will be announced Wednesday, according to John Robbins, rally committee chairman.

Entertainment will include the Dull Skulls, a Chi Omega singing group, and the Blue Flames of Alpha Tau Omega.

Song girls, cheerleaders and the SJS Pep Band will stir the Homecoming spirit.

Lyke Sets Debut
For Wednesday

The first edition of Lyke, campus feature magazine, will be on sale for 50 cents, Wednesday through Friday at five campus locations, according to Jim Quick, editor.

Selling places for the magazine are in front of the cafeteria, in front of the bookstore, in the library quad, in front of the Education Building and on Seventh Street by the Home Economics Building.

Elementary Intern Teaching
Applications Now Available

Applications are being taken for SJS elementary intern teaching program, according to Dr. William G. Sweeney, dean of the Education Division.

The program, in its eighth year, is open to graduates of any accredited college or university who have degrees in any areas other than education, but are interested in teaching.

Applicants should be close to a B average, with a broad liberal arts background.

New internees will attend the 1965 Summer Session and then be placed in a public school teaching position at regular salary. During this year of teaching, the internees are supervised by the SJS elementary education faculty.

HEALTH SERVICE GRANT

A four-year, U.S. Public Health Service Graduate Training Grant, totaling $70,000, goes into effect this semester with the Department of Civil Engineering and Applied Mechanics at SJS.

Administrators of the grant are Dr. Franklin J. Agardy, project director and Broderick P. Haskell, Jr.

Enrollment in a second Summer Session is required before the program is completed.

Anyone wishing to apply should contact or write Dr. Robert Ramonda, director, elementary intern program.
